National Weekend of Prayer and Reflection for Darfur

July 15, 16, & 17

The U.S. Senate and House of Representatives are calling for Americans to unite in prayer and reflection.

During the National Weekend of Prayer and Reflection, religious congregations across America will offer prayers for the people of Darfur. Reflect with others across the country on the plight of Darfur's children and their families, and respond as your faith and religious traditions call you.

Millions remain at risk, while up to 400,000 people have already lost their lives. More than 2.5 million people have been burned out of their villages by Sudanese government forces and their proxy militias – and many thousands of women and girls have been raped. Now these vulnerable people face famine conditions.

Join with millions of others of all faiths to pray and act for the people of Darfur.
